Anthony Sikpa
President of FAGE

Dear Readers,

2019 is here with us and all of us at FAGE (Federation of Associations of Ghanaian Exporters) wish you great success and prosperous business in this New Year.

This year, FAGE will continue to work to strengthen Ghana's presence and participation in the international market, so that exporters can increase their business gains and generate better investments for growth.

In 2018, our sector was faced with a number of formidable challenges which made business growth and expansion of export operations for most of us very difficult. The developments in the banking sector, a weakening Cedi, increases in utility prices and lack of trade finance all worked against us.

However, FAGE maintained its interventionist activities to help create networks and linkages that could enable our members' businesses as well as open new doors / opportunities for diversified and sustained exports. Together with our donor partners and public sector collaborators, we were able to organize activities for the benefit of our members, such as the mango roundtables, the mango week, the vegetable roundtable, training seminars on value chain development and corporate governance. We also hosted trade missions from Import Promotion Desk (IPD) of Germany, delegations from USAID and McFruits of Italy and yet another successful participation in Fruit Logistica.

In 2019, we are poised to take advantage of the Government's export development drive/policies to help our members increase their revenues and become more competitive. In pursuit of this, we will facilitate acquisition of the required market certification for our members, and propagate more forcefully the implementation of the traceability system as well as improved packaging and labelling of exported products from Ghana.

It is our hope that the uncertainties in the banking and finance sector would be dealt away within the course of the year. This would make access to finance better. We are therefore going to continue our advocacy for increased financing of investments in agro-food processing and production of manufactured derivatives to add to the stock of exportable products.

We invite you to look forward with hope in 2019, work harder, network more closely and take advantage of all the opportunities we can create and share with you.

Many thanks for your custom!

Anthony Sikpa
President of FAGE

FEDERATION OF ASSOCIATIONS OF GHANAIAN EXPORTERS (FAGE)

Becoming a World Class Export Business Solution Provider

Background of the Business

The Federation of Associations of Ghanaian Exporters (FAGE) is an umbrella organization of exporter and product associations, established in 1992. With over 2,500 companies represented, FAGE embodies Ghanaian businesses in the agricultural and manufacturing industries, including exporters of food crops, seafood, agricultural products, forest products, handicrafts and textiles.

FAGE promotes the expansion and diversification of Ghanaian exports to foreign markets by assisting member firms in developing and marketing their products, and by improving the enabling environment for trade through government advocacy.

Member services comprise secretarial functions for its member associations, IT support as well as trade fair services. FAGE has been organising the Ghana stand at Fruit Logistica since 2006 as a means for trade facilitation, as well as the National Mango Roundtable (since 2015), National Yam Roundtable (since 2016) and the Ghana Mango Week (since 2017) as a means for public-private policy dialogue and mutual learning.

The organization also advocates for trade expansion, participating in policymaking forums and making recommendations to government agencies and foreign entities based on its knowledge of local and international markets. These linkages between government, Ghanaian business, and their global partners facilitate doing business in Ghana and enhance the performance of non-traditional exports.

SPEG Introduces Production and Export of Melons

In 2016, SPEG rolled out the commercial production and export of high quality melons to Europe and beyond. Infrastructure works such as irrigation systems are in place on members plantations. The melons are marketed under SPEG's Sankofa brand.

Varieties of SPEG Melons

*Honeydew, Cantaloupe,
Piel de Sapo*

The "Sankofa" Brand

SPEG has introduced a new brand being used for exports by selected members. "Sankofa" stands for high quality and consistency in supplies.

SPEG Sea-Freight Pineapple Exporters of Ghana

SPEG is a group of 21 pineapple producers and exporters in Ghana who currently together export 20,000 tonnes of fresh pineapples per year in reefer vessels and by air. Pineapple varieties supplied are MD2, Smooth Cayenne, Queen Victoria and Sugarloaf. Other products include Mango, Papaya, Melons, Yam, Passion Fruits and Dried Fruits.

SPEG assists its members in maintaining common quality standards, attaining certification (GlobalGAP) and providing shipping arrangements. SPEG members also co-operate in marketing of their produce in the European Union and the Middle East.

To differentiate their produce from other origins, SPEG has introduced a common "Sankofa" brand which some members use to produce fruits according to defined quality criteria and production / post harvest standards.

Services to Members

- Arranges sea-freight space on assigned vessels
- Consolidates pineapple cargo for vessel operators
- Co-ordinates shipping arrangements on behalf of its members
- Oversees loading of cargo at the port and prepares all documents covering exporters' shipments
- Provides technical support services in Good Agricultural Practices, post-harvest handling and food safety
- Undertakes market promotion and provides market information services
- Undertakes lobbying of Ministries, Departments, Agencies and service providers on policies that will promote pineapple production and export

Eastern Region Pineapple Associations

Cooperative Pineapple Growers Societies in the Eastern Region

Since the early 1990s, smallholder pineapple producers in the Eastern Region have formed associations which assist their members to adopt better practices and access high-end markets.

A number of pineapple grower associations in the Eastern Region have adopted GlobalGAP certification to be able to supply to high-end processors in Ghana such as Blue Skies, HPW and Pinora.

The association members which are small holders growing pineapples on 0.5 to 3 acres also supply fresh pineapples for export through links to larger commercial Sea-Freight Pineapple Exporters of Ghana (SPEG) member farms. Some have the capacity to export directly using the pack house services of nearby larger farms.

YILO KROBO

Yilo Krobo Mango Farmers Association

Yilo Krobo Mango Farmers Association was established in February 2005 to promote the interest of mango producers in the Yilo Krobo District (Eastern Region) of Ghana. The Association assists members in the proper production of mangoes. It currently has a total membership of 124 farms of which 63 are GlobalGAP certified with combined acreage of approximately 2200. Another 1050 acres are yet to be certified. The main varieties cultivated by members are the Keitt, Kent and Tommy Atkins. Yilo Krobo Mango Farmers Association fosters long-term contracts with reliable exporters and processors for the benefit of its members.

Services to Members

- Promotion of group marketing and facilitating contracts with large off-takers and processors
- Facilitating training in good agricultural practices and diffusion of new technologies
- Advocacy on behalf of its members

MANYA KROBO

Manya Krobo Mango Farmers Association

Manya Krobo was registered in 2007 as a co-operative. Currently it has a membership of 89 of which 19 are GlobalGAP certified. We have a registered office at Kpong in the Lower Manya Krobo District (Eastern Region).

Currently Manya Krobo is collaborating with various institutions to introduce additional varieties to meet the demand that is being created. Main fruit varieties that are available currently are Keitt, Kent, Palmer and Haden.

Services to Members

- Assisting farmers to sell in bulk to buyers
- Acting as internal quality control body to enforce high quality standards for produce
- Providing regular training on the latest technologies in the production of mangoes
- Advocating on behalf of our members on policy issues that affect the mango industry

DAMFA DANGME-WEST MANGO FARMERS ASSOCIATION

Dangme West Mango Farmers Association comprises more than 100 members who are all growing mangoes in their orchards with sizes of 3 to 90 acres. The association was registered in 2006 and has an office in the village of Agomeda in Shai-Osudoku District to which also the famous National Game Reserve Shai Hills belongs. Agomeda is only 40 km North of Tema. DAMFA assists members in the proper production of mangoes by establishing and enforcing appropriate standards. Main mango varieties available are mainly Keitt supported by Kent and Haden.

Services to Members

COMANGA

Mid-Ghana Commercial Mango Growers' Association

COMANGA is a farmer producer organization specialized in the cultivation and sale of fresh mango fruits produced under good agronomic conditions. We are a private, non-governmental group of commercially-oriented farmers in the middle sector of Ghana whose businesses are driven by the demands of the market for which we produce. The formation of COMANGA was facilitated by MOAP of GIZ in 2010.

Our mission is to make a meaningful impact on the economic growth of Ghana by improving the living standards of our farmers through cost-cutting measures and increased profitability. This we hope to achieve by promoting and ensuring the adoption of good agricultural practices, value addition and marketing of quality mangoes.

Currently, we have 30 paid-up members who manage approximately 1,500 acres of fruiting mango farms.

Services to Members

1. Marketing Services
 - COMANGA creates marketing channels for its members to sell their produce.
 - We negotiate on volumes, prices and other supply conditions.
 - Coordinates supply arrangements, oversee loading and prepare all accompanying documents on behalf of members.
2. Agronomic and Extension Services
 - Periodic assessment of capacity gaps and collaborates with partners to train members.
 - Conducts farm monitoring and evaluation to assess adoption of good agronomic practices.
 - Facilitates procurement of agro-inputs for use by our members.
3. Other services offered include provision of support in the following areas;
 - Records keeping as basis for GlobalGAP certification
 - Gross margin analysis as basis for business planning and linkage to financial services.

GROCTEU

Ghana Root Crops and Tubers Exporters Union

GROCTEU was registered in 2001 as the apex body for four yam exporters namely the Ghana Yam Producers & Exporters Association, the Ghana Assorted Foodstuffs Exporters Association, the Konkomba Yam Farmers & Exporters of Ghana and the Sea Freight Yam Exporters of Ghana. In 2004 The Ministry of Trade & Industry appointed GROCTEU to set up and manage in the Port City of Tema a National Yam Pack House, which is the single corridor for the inspection of all yam sea shipments by the regulatory agencies and customs. GROCTEU has established direct links with twelve producer groups in twenty major yam growing districts for the farmers to produce to quality standards and buyer requirements. Product-lines are yam (4 varieties), sweet potato and cocoyam. GROCTEU member companies which are small to medium size have the capacity individually to meet yam order volumes from 5 to 500 tons per month. Besides this, GROCTEU has registered a company, GROCTEU Marketing Ltd., which members use to execute larger orders.

Services to Members

- Organises workshops to educate stakeholders in international best practices
- Furnishes members with market intelligence and assists them to attend international fairs
- Acts as official representative of farmers and exporters to protect their interest in yam policy directives/interventions
- Assists the government to streamline the administration of the yam export trade

K. Laast Co. Ltd

FRESH YAM EXPORTERS

Famous for Quality & Excellence

National & International Award Winners

K. Laast Company Limited was established in July 1996 and is involved in the export of fresh yams to various destinations in the European Union and United States of America. We have made tremendous contribution to Ghana's Yams Export trade since 2000 when after our massive structural modification. It was therefore a matter of time for us to receive recognition for our outstanding export performance.

With careful sorting and packaging of good quality yams and conformity to acceptable government-laid down procedures and international marketing requirements, we have gradually established a name for export of first-class yams in Ghana as industry leader.

From the year 2003 till date, we have increased our output in the yam export trade to the height of being the largest exporter of yams in Ghana, i.e. exported approximately 11% of total export in Ghana in 2011 equivalent to about 3000 tons.

The Bio Ghana Network brings together certified organic exporters and importers into an association for the purposes of advocacy, promotion and development of organic production, processing and marketing (both local and exports). The focus of the network is on organic fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, fruit juices, dried fruits, dried peels, dried vegetables, cosmetics, among other products. The network also includes associated members engaged in advisory/ support services and certification to assist members in achieving their goals in the organic industry. The Bio Ghana Network is a member of the Ecological Organic Agriculture Platform of Ghana and a registered member association of the Federation of Associations of Ghanaian Exporters (FAGE).

Services to members:

- Sales: Point of contact for international buyers.
- Trade Promotion: Group participation in exhibitions both locally and internationally.
- Training: Provides training in organic production & certification for its members.
- Group Certification: Organises group audits and coordinated certification at lower costs.
- Advocacy: Advocates and informs the market about organic production in Ghana.

Osumpa Cooperative Union

The Osumpa Union is a cooperative of small-scale producer groups in Ghana powered by the Green Village rural development organisation. The Osumpa Union consists of over 500 farmers producing pineapples and mangoes in different areas of Ghana. The Osumpa Union works within the principles of sustainability, integrity and community development. It reinvests revenues into several agricultural and social projects.

Services to Members

- Training for farmers and farm workers on production standards for the EU market
- Bringing farms together to meet demand
- Post-harvest and export management
- Finding external markets for its members
- Implementing projects for the needs of the farming communities
